This, in effect, amounts to a removal of Mr. Sherrick by the Governor, though the official statement is not made that way.

At the time that his analysis of the assets submitted by Sherrick was made, the Governor formally requested Sherrick to resign. AMOUNTING TO $145,000. The resignation was not forthcoming. The Governor requested that Sherrick turn over to John E. Reed, the settlement clerk in the Auditor's office, the securities enumerated, and this was done.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT'S BATTLE.

The trouble, which broke out a few days ago at Henderson Mounds when Owen & Delaney employed negroes to do some of the henvier work at the mill, reached a climax last night, when an organized attack was made on the sleeping quarters of the negroes and Clarence J. Delaney, who has notive control of the plant.

More than seventy shots were fired and one buildt struck within a few inches of Mr. Delaney's head, but, so far as known here, no one was wounded. But for the fact that Mr. Delaney was especing the attack, however, and had his men armed and ready to defend themselves to the death, it is believed a bloody massacre might have occurred. New Madrid, Mo., Sept. II.—Acting on orders from Acting Governor McKinley. Sheriff T. F. Henry of New Madrid County to-day went to Henderson Mounds, an unincorporated village in this county, and arrested seven men accused of being implicated in race riots at the Owen-Delancy lumber mill at that place.

Sheriff Henry was appealed to several ways ago to make arrests at the lumber camp, but he refused to do so in the absence of warrants. This morning the Sheriff Henry was accompanied by Deputies Shankle, Griffith and Smith. The officers went armed to the teeth, expecting serious trouble in making the arrests.

The seven men they brought back with them from Henderson Mounds pleaded not guilty before Squire Ransburgh, who com-

Washington, Sept. 14.—The State Department to-day received a communication from Consul General Rodgers at Shanghai, which sets forth the condition of affairs there commercially, growing out of the Chinese boycott.

The question, therefore, of marketing this commodity and of collecting the money under the present conditions, with Manchuria closed, he adds, presents a very serious condition, and is apt to cause great difficulty, not only to the Chinese merchants, but also to the importers.

What is true of piece goods, he says, is also true of all other lines of staple products.

The testimony offered indicated that
Mrs. Madden had almost entire supervision of the big breeding farm operated by her husband, and looked after many details that were distasteful to her. Her rewards were carping criticism and the most abusive language.

During the lilness attending the birth of their second son, it was stated, Madden forced her to leave her sick bed to write letters until the nurse absolutely forbade it any longer and ordered the husband out of the room.

It was also told that the father was so indifferent that he did not see the child until it was 2 days old, although he occupied a room near the birth chamber. Florence Harris, the colored maid, testified that her master was abusive to her mistress, using harsh and profane language.

mistress, using harsh and profane language.

The deposition of Milton Young, a horse breeder of Fayette County, Kentucky, was introduced to show the value of Madden's property. His farm of 1.60 acres was valued at $175 to $20 per acre by Young, or about $20,000 in all. His broodmares were estimated at $120,000; yearlings, $100,000; race horses, $20,000; yearlings, $100,000; race horses, $20,000; yearlings, $100,000; race horses, $20,000.

A deposition from Johany Daiy, a professional prize fighter, stated that he had been paid $20 a month to amuse the Madden boys and teach them boxing. He was also expected to report to their father if they made visits with their mother or anyone else. R. P. Kirney, an ex-saloonist, testified that he was employed in a similar capacity at the same time and was the boys' constant companion.

Priends of the Maddens made a strong plea in the courtroom for the reconciliation of the couple, but without avail. Mrs. Madden was recalled to the stand on cross-examination, and identified letters she had written to ber husband after their separation. They were couched in affectionate terms, but she explained that she had been trapped into writing them, for Madden exclaimed: "Now I have got her," when he received them, and afterwards shook them in her face.

The trial of the case has developed a bitter feeling on both sides, Mrs. Madden vehemently denying insinuations of improper conduct.
